

To Kill a Mockingbird - Quotation Analysis

FOR EACH QUOTATION...

Write: the quotation(s) in your journal

Identify: the context, the speakers/listeners

Explain: the significance of each quotation

Context – noun - 1. the circumstances relevant to an event or fact
2. the words before and after a word or passage in a piece of writing that contribute to its meaning.

Chapter 4

"Two live oaks stood at the end of the Radley lot; their roots reached into the side-road and made it bumpy. Something about one of the trees attracted my attention. Some tin foil was sticking out of a knot-hole just above my eye level, winking at me in the afternoon sun. I stood on my tiptoe, hastily looked around once more, reached into the hole, and withdrew two pieces of chewing gum minus their outer wrappers."

Chapter 5

"So that's what you were doing, wasn't it?"

'Makin' fun of him?'

'No,...Putting his life's history on display for the edification of the neighborhood.'

...'I didn't say we were doin' that, I didn't say it!'

...'You just told me,' he said. 'You stop this nonsense right now, every one of you.'"

Chapter 6

"Then I saw the shadow. It was the shadow of a man with a hat on. At first I thought it was a tree, but there was no wind blowing, and tree trunks never walked. The back porch was bathed in moonlight, and the shadow, crisp and toast, moved across the porch towards Jem.

"Dill saw it next. He put his hands to his face.

"When it crossed Jem, Jem saw it. He put his arms over his head and went ridged."

To Kill a Mockingbird - Quotation Analysis

FOR EACH QUOTATION...

Write: the quotation(s) in your journal

Identify: the context, the speakers/listeners

Explain: the significance of each quotation

Context – noun - 1. the circumstances relevant to an event or fact
2. the words before and after a word or passage in a piece of writing that contribute to its meaning.

Chapter 4

"Two live oaks stood at the end of the Radley lot; their roots reached into the side-road and made it bumpy. Something about one of the trees attracted my attention. Some tin foil was sticking out of a knot-hole just above my eye level, winking at me in the afternoon sun. I stood on my tiptoe, hastily looked around once more, reached into the hole, and withdrew two pieces of chewing gum minus their outer wrappers."

Chapter 5

"So that's what you were doing, wasn't it?"

'Makin' fun of him?'

'No,...Putting his life's history on display for the edification of the neighborhood.'

...'I didn't say we were doin' that, I didn't say it!'

...'You just told me,' he said. 'You stop this nonsense right now, every one of you.'"

Chapter 6

"Then I saw the shadow. It was the shadow of a man with a hat on. At first I thought it was a tree, but there was no wind blowing, and tree trunks never walked. The back porch was bathed in moonlight, and the shadow, crisp and toast, moved across the porch towards Jem.

"Dill saw it next. He put his hands to his face.

"When it crossed Jem, Jem saw it. He put his arms over his head and went ridged."